

Astrological Birth Chart

Prepared for: EXAMPLE

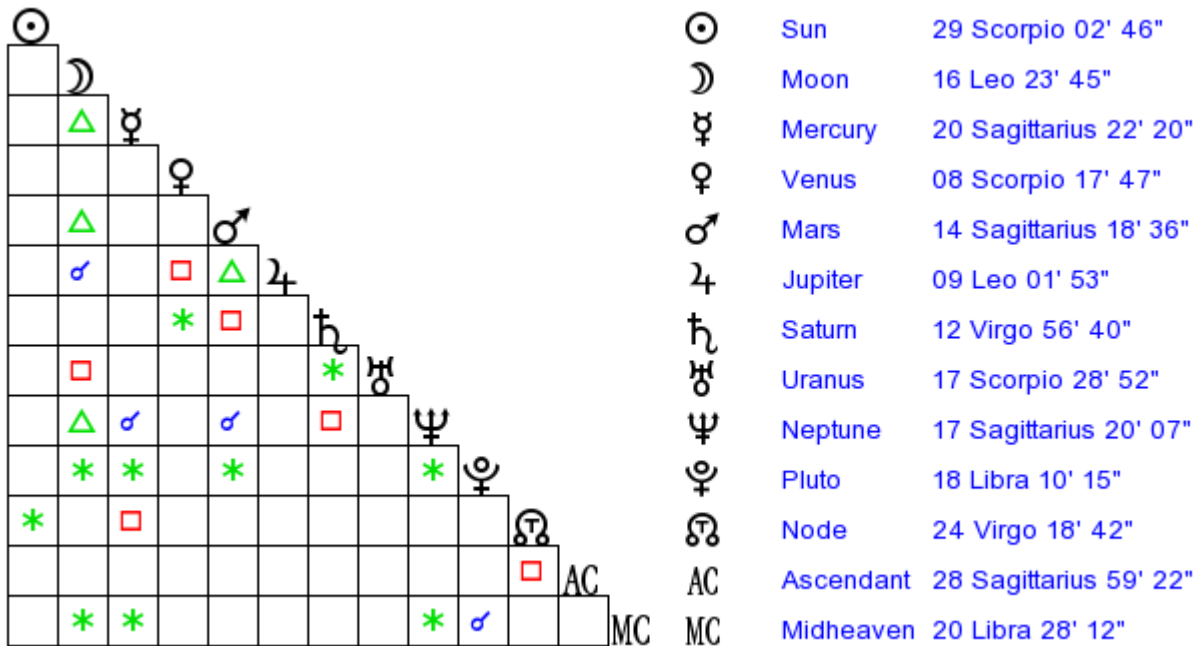

November 21, 1978 at 09:25 (GMT -8 hours), 122w42, 37n77

Click here to visit InteractiveStars.com

EXAMPLE

November 21, 1978 at 09:25 (GMT -8 hours), 122w42, 37n77

The most powerful astrological aspect - for better or for worse! A conjunction describes a very important character trait.

A major aspect. Can show incompatibility between two facets of a person's character. Can also show breadth of vision in that area of life.

Two planets at right angles to one another can show character traits that are at odds with one another. Can also be a spur for action, growth and change.

Two planets a third of the 360 circle apart show an easy, flowing relationship between two aspects of a person's character.

Two planets one sixth of the 360 circle apart is similar to a Trine - easy and harmonious - but not as powerful.

Two planets five twelfths of the 360 circle apart show character traits that are contradictory and not at ease with one another.

Introduction

Your Natal Birth Chart - Personality Profile - is a snap shot of the stars and planets in the heavens at the time, and place, that you were born. The positions of the planets, the relationships they form with one another, and the zodiac signs they fall in, together with the rising sign and the celestial houses, form a unique pattern which reveals the different aspects of your personality and true potential.

Your Rising Sign

On your chart, at the 9 o'clock position, you will see your Rising Sign, also known as your Ascendant. This shows the exact degree of the zodiac sign that was rising over the Eastern horizon at the time and place that you were born. Its sign reveals the lens through which you see the world and how you seem to others.

The Twelve Celestial Houses

Your Rising Sign is so important as it also marks the start of your First House, from which all the other houses follow. Each house rules a different area of your life, which will be affected in a very different way by whichever zodiac sign, or signs, it happens to contain, and by any planet in it.

The Sun, Moon and Planets

Each planet represents a different aspect of our being. The Sun represents our true self, and the Moon, our instincts and emotions. Mercury, the Mind, Venus, love and pleasure, Mars, action and desire, Jupiter, optimism and good fortune, Saturn, boundaries and limitations, Uranus, freedom, Neptune, dreams and ideals, and Pluto, rebirth, intensity and far-reaching change.

Each planet behaves differently in each zodiac sign, and in each of the twelve houses that describe the different areas of our lives.

How the Planets Interact

The relationships between the planets is also of great importance. The more dynamic links, or 'aspects', a planet makes to other planets, or to the 'angles' of your chart, such as your Ascendant or Midheaven, the high point of your chart, the more powerful a role it plays in your psychology.

A conjunction, when two or more planets are very close together, is the most powerful link. Next, in order of importance, come oppositions, squares, when two planets are at right angles to one another, trines, sextiles and quincunxes.

The sign and house occupied by your ruling planet, the ruler of your Rising Sign, and any links that it may have to other planets, also play a major role.

Together, all these different factors make up the unique and complex person that is you, revealing how you love, the way you think, your strengths and weaknesses, where your real talents lie, and where your life is heading.

Your Life's Direction

The North and South Nodes of the Moon, the signs they occupy and the houses that they fall in, show what is second nature to you, and which qualities you are striving to develop in this life.

And, as time goes by and the planets continue on their journey round the heavens, they form new, dynamic links with the planets in your birth chart, bringing different aspects of your personality and feelings into sharper focus as the story of your life unfolds.

The Personal Daily Horoscope and Major Trends describe the way the planets are influencing your birth chart now. Please login at www.interactivestars.com

Your Natal Report

The Sun

Just as the sun in the sky is the center of the solar system, the Sun in astrology is the central nucleus of your personality. If each of the planets circling round the sun represents a single facet of your personality - Venus describes how you love and Saturn how you relate to responsibility, for example - then the Sun is the conductor of your personal orchestra, giving meaning and coherence to the wholeness that is you. It is the part of yourself that you identify with, your sense of self. Its sign - your sun-sign - and house position, as well as the aspects that it makes to other planets, describe your true potential; the 'you' you are deep down and are striving to express, as well as your will, your goals and purpose. While the feminine Moon represents your Soul, the masculine Sun represents your Spirit. Its position in your chart also shows the ways in which your outlook has been influenced by your father.

Your Sun in Scorpio

With the Sun in Scorpio, you are a passionate person. Still waters run deep with you, however, and you do not show your feelings to anyone or everyone who comes along. Others may accuse you of being secretive or hard to fathom, but it is the very power of your emotions that makes you so cautious. For you can be hurt, and, when you are, you do not take it lightly, and you may well take revenge. However, you are loyal to the end to those who do not let you down, and your perseverance and determination mean that you can overcome the greatest setbacks. For Scorpio is the sign of transformation and regeneration, and your ability to leave the past behind you and start over is your greatest strength.

Your Sun in the Eleventh House

The eleventh house rules social life, as well as all joint endeavors. The sign, and any planets here, describe the way that we fit in with others and operate when we are in a group. This is the house of altruistic and humanitarian goals, of friendship and community, where we work hard to make our vision of the brotherhood of man, and of a better world, come true.

As the eleventh house rules the Brotherhood of Man and all forms of joint endeavor, you discover your real self, and develop a strong sense of identity, through working for a common cause, or in group activities that make you feel connected with your fellow men. You work well in a team and thrive on the feedback and the sense of belonging that you get from sharing common goals with others. The eleventh house also governs social life and friendship, which can mean more to you than one to one relationships or marriage. It is often through your friends that you discover new horizons or adopt beliefs. You are both easy to get on with and loyal to your friends, but you should be on guard against identifying solely with the group, instead of carving out your own identity as well.

This is an extroverted position for the Sun and you would do well in any career or job that involves working with others towards a shared goal.

Your Ascendant in Sagittarius

With the adventurous sign of Sagittarius rising over the horizon at the time that you were born, you see life in the round and you paint on a broad canvas. Like the starry archer that aims his arrow at the heavens, you are on a quest to find life's meaning, and to see the world, which means that you soon grow restless if you are pinned down for too long. To learn, and then to teach, are your main goals in life, and finding ways to build a better world and help mankind on its great journey, are what motivate you. You are a natural idealist, and, with your well-developed social sense, you tend to play a leading role in any group that you belong to.

With Sagittarius rising, you are ruled by the expansive, optimistic planet, Jupiter. Its zodiac sign and house position, as well as the links it makes to other planets, are key aspects of your natal chart.

The Moon

The Moon represents the intuitive, instinctive side of your personality. The way that you relate to others, your instinctive emotions and habitual responses, as well as your relationship to your mother and your family, are all ruled by the feminine, passive and sensitive Moon. The values, general orientation, and 'atmosphere' of the sign it occupies in your chart, as well as any links between the Moon and other planets, reveal a lot about your childhood home and upbringing, your roots and your past. It is connected with nurturing and safety.

Your Moon in Leo

Magnanimous proud and generous, like the lion that is the King of Beasts, Leo has an almost regal outlook on existence and is built on the grand scale. There is nothing mean or petty about the fiery sign of Leo, which also has great warmth and charm and a natural gift for creativity and drama. Behind its self-confidence, a great deal of sensitivity is also hidden. Leo also likes the limelight and is always center-stage.

When it comes to your emotional life, you are a romantic person, and you tend to fall in love with ease. But there is nothing down to earth or every day about the way that you conduct romance. You have a powerful imagination, filled with damsels in distress and knights in shining armor, and you love to make big gestures. A monotonous, but safe relationship is most definitely not what you are after. You like to live life to the full and need plenty of attention, as deep down you may lack confidence, although that isn't how you come across. You also have a lot to give, as you are generous and warm-hearted, and you find it easy to discuss your feelings. Spending time alone is not your idea of pleasure, as you need an audience. Given a choice between security and drama, you will go for drama - melodrama, even - every time.

Your Moon in the Eighth House

The eighth house is concerned with endings and beginnings, with regeneration and transformation. Here, we discard what we have outgrown to make way for the new. Here, also we get down to the heart of things, stripping away the dross to reveal the truth or essence of the subject. This is the house of legacies and of joint financial issues, of sexuality and of everything that is shared with others.

With the Moon in this house, you have a sixth sense for coming trends and a natural gift for picking up on what is happening around you. Because you are so open to emotional undercurrents, you are always highly sensitive to the feelings and the sexual needs of those you are involved with. As a child, you may have found your parents' feelings overwhelming; certainly, you learned a lot about emotional realities when young. As a result, you know how to share and there is nothing superficial about the way that you respond to others.

With the Moon here, you also have a natural ability to manage money, or may inherit property from others.

Your Moon in Conjunction with Your Jupiter

You love comfort, luxury, and having fun, and you have a well-developed sense of drama, especially where emotional or romantic issues are concerned. In fact, with Jupiter conjunct your Moon, you can be at the mercy of your feelings, and you tend to give them a free rein. But you also have great loyalty to others and are sensitive and considerate to their needs. You know how to create a happy and harmonious atmosphere around you and your home life usually takes centre stage, as your family is all-important to you.

Your Moon in Trine with Your Mercury

This aspect gives you both an excellent memory and a keen intellect and your reason and emotions are in tune. You have sound common sense, you learn fast and are a good and thorough student. You may be logical and down to earth, but you are also witty and good company to be with. You are also very sensitive to the moods of the people around you, and you are diplomatic and always careful not to hurt the feelings of others. This aspect ensures that you will have many friends, and that they will value your good judgement.

Your Moon in Trine with Your Mars

You feel at ease with other people, as they do with you, and you are friendly and considerate, open, but diplomatic. You enjoy social life and have no problem sharing your real feelings. You, yourself are honest, and you dislike dishonesty, but you don't expect people to be perfect and you are quick to forgive mistakes. Whether you are decorating your home or conducting business, you are also original and creative. You need a certain amount of emotional excitement and have great physical and psychic energy reserves.

Your Moon in Square with Your Uranus

You have a powerful imagination and great creative abilities, but sticking at one thing for long is not your strong point, which can make it hard to realize your dreams. Routine also makes you restless, as you need freedom to explore the possibilities around you, and you resent all limitations and restrictions.

Your Moon in Trine with Your Neptune

With this aspect in your chart, you should have strong psychic abilities, and you may often find you have established telepathic bonds with those you are involved with. You also have a great deal of compassion for those who suffer and will go to enormous lengths to help them. Because Neptune rules the intangible and the unseen, you are more concerned with spiritual matters than with the down to earth realities of every day. Your powerful imagination also gives real artistic flair.

Your Moon in Sextile with Your Pluto

You are able to put your energy to positive use. You are also sympathetic to the needs of other people and you notice what is going on around you emotionally. You are always as good as your word and are open to new ideas for making your life, and the lives of others, easier.

Nor do you spread yourself too thinly, as you prefer to have a few, real friends than waste your energy on shallow social life; to those you love, you are loyal and devoted.

Your Moon in Sextile with Your Midheaven

This link between your chart's Midheaven and your Moon indicates a harmonious childhood. Consideration, both between the individual members of your family and towards others, may have played a large part in your early life. This makes it easy for you to fit in with others and to please them, and you should get along well with your colleagues and your boss. You also have self-discipline and are known for your reliability, which means that you are often entrusted with important projects.

Mercury

Mercury, the planet called after the quick-witted Messenger of the Gods, rules communication of all kinds. The sign and house it occupies, as well as the links it makes to other planets, show not only how you communicate, but what kind of mind you have - how you think and reason - and how, and what, you learn. Its position also shows your relationships to your brothers and sisters - or your lack of them. Above all, it is concerned with making connections. It also rules all forms of trade and commerce.

Your Mercury in Sagittarius

For Sagittarius, the starry archer, life is an adventure and a journey to discover truth. Sagittarius is about the way we broaden our horizons and our thirst for knowledge and experience. It is concerned with learning, and with teaching, as well as our entire philosophy of life. Sagittarius sees the broader picture and is not concerned with details. It also governs foreign lands and cultures, as well as everything connected with religion and freedom of belief.

You paint on a broad canvas and you are not interested in details, but in finding out the meaning of existence. You prefer big ideas - and grandiose schemes, even if they do involve a risk - to dull routine. You are a free-thinking, liberal person and you are prepared to fight for freedom, and for other people's rights; but you can also be dogmatic if those you wish to help should disagree with how you see things. You could well be drawn to politics or education, as the urge to teach is strong. As is the urge to learn, for you see life as a journey and you will probably travel a great deal.

Your Mercury in the Twelfth House

The twelfth house governs the unconscious mind, and is the place where we seek oneness with all life. Telepathy and psychic powers, intuition and tuning into hidden needs and feelings, both in ourselves and others, are found here. It is also the house of self sacrifice and of secrets of all kinds, and the place where we are linked to the beyond.

This is an introverted position for the volatile, quick-witted planet, Mercury. What concerns you in this life is not the outer world, but what is going on inside your soul. Exploring and analyzing your own motives and emotions, and placing them in a new context that you can understand more fully, is your aim. You are also very open to the atmosphere around you, and can find it hard, at times, to distinguish clearly where your ideas end and those of others start. You are also gifted with a powerful imagination - and with the ability to put your subtlest intuitions into words. Mercury here also sharpens psychic powers.

Your Mercury in Conjunction with your Neptune

With Mercury conjunct Neptune, you are one of nature's dreamers and you almost certainly have psychic powers. In fact, your intuition is so powerful that you often pick up on what others think before they have had time to speak. You also have a gift for poetry, and may well be drawn to studying esoteric subjects, which have great fascination for you.

Your Mercury in Sextile with Your Pluto

Your precise, logical mind enables you to understand other people's motives and see through to the heart of any matter. The truth is the most important thing to you, which makes you the ideal detective, as you rarely give up until you are quite sure that you have all the facts. You also have the willpower, and imagination, to reach your most ambitious goals, as well as to enlist support from those who count.

Your Mercury in Sextile with Your MC

Coordinating family and professional affairs is a trick that you have mastered. Also getting to know people is easy for you due to your communicating skills, which also allow you to express your creative potential. In your youth your family life was probably very harmonious; good relations of both your parents has had a positive effect on the development of your character.

Venus

Venus shows how you relate to, and cooperate, with others and the way you love. While the Moon is the symbol of the mother, and of all maternal love and caring, the love goddess, Venus, is a beautiful young woman. Venus's sign and house position, as well as the links it makes to other planets, show how you attract others to you and your attitude towards romance. It softens any planet that it touches. In a woman's chart, its sign reveals your type of femininity and sexuality, while in a man's chart it indicates what kind of woman you are drawn to. It also shows what you find beautiful, harmonious and desirable and what gives you pleasure. Venus also rules the arts and music.

Your Venus in Scorpio

To those who do not know you well, you usually seem calm and in control of your emotions. But beneath the surface it is quite another story, as you are as intense and deeply passionate as it gets. You are not interested in casual liaisons, as your approach to love is all or nothing and you can form almost telepathic links with those you care for. Venus in Scorpio is famous for its magnetism and charisma - and its interest in sex. But what you are really after is a chance to reach the heights of love and powerful emotion. You will risk your all to get there and you are not afraid to plumb the depths, or to break taboos that more conventional signs abide by. You are also fiercely loyal and will fight to the death to help your loved ones. But woe betide someone who betrays your trust, for you can be vengeful and you do not easily forget. Life may be hard, at times, for those with Venus here, but you are more likely to experience true joy than those who are more superficial and light-hearted.

Your Venus in the Tenth House

The tenth house represents our public image, our career and standing in the world. The sign occupying the tenth house, as well as the planets found there, show how we project ourselves to others and the part we play on the stage of life. This house also shows our attitude towards authority and is connected with our parents, as it is from them that we get our first impression of the world and learned how to function in it. It is here that we give concrete form to the vision of the world that we have developed in the ninth house, which rules our philosophy of life.

With Venus here, you may have a very glamorous public image and you like to be recognized by others for your elegance, your taste and style - and your good looks. You are always well turned out and are usually up to date with the latest fashions. You could work in the fashion industry, in the world of films or in the art world, as Venus here gives a keen eye for beauty and a sense of what the public wants. Because you need harmony around you in the work place, you make an easy, diplomatic colleague. You are also a highly social being, and are probably to be seen at all the right parties. You may have inherited your Venustian public persona from one, or both, of your parents.

Your Venus in Square with Your Jupiter

This aspect gives a streak of real extravagance to your nature and you love to make expansive gestures with both your money and emotions. You see life as a great pageant - in which you play the leading part - and you love pleasure, luxury and comfort. You also tend to trust to luck where all financial issues are concerned. Everything tends to be larger than life with you, which can make every passing fancy a grand passion filled with intrigue and excitement. You are not interested in what is down to earth and stable, and you can rush in where angels fear to tread in pursuit of your ideals.

Your Venus in Sextile with Your Saturn

You not only have astounding creative talent, but your friends and relatives appreciate you for your loyalty and reliability. You should be capable of making long-lasting friendships because you value your relationships so much. What you want most is to live happily at your partner's side, which includes working together to realize your mutual creative ambitions. You are able to sacrifice your own personal advantages for the sake of others. In society, you appear cultivated and charming, and constantly expanding your general education is important to you. Professional success will enable you to live comfortably on an adequate retirement fund. The simple lifestyle you prefer will help you to realize this with little effort.

Mars

The fiery and dynamic planet, Mars, rules your will power, sexuality and drive. Its sign and house position, as well as the links it makes to other planets, show your energy and motivation. It is the action planet, revealing where, and how, you are assertive, as well as your courage - and aggression. It also rules your sex drive and your general libido. In a man's chart it also describes his type of masculinity, while in a woman's chart it shows what kind of man she is drawn to.

Your Mars in Sagittarius

For Sagittarius, the starry archer, life is an adventure and a journey to discover truth. Sagittarius is about the way we broaden our horizons and our thirst for knowledge and experience. It is concerned with learning, and with teaching, as well as our entire philosophy of life. Sagittarius sees the broader picture and is not concerned with details. It also governs foreign lands and cultures, as well as everything connected with religion and freedom of belief.

With Mars in Sagittarius, you have a restless and adventurous spirit. You are at your happiest when you are breaking new, exciting ground and you resent restrictions of all kinds. In fact, you cannot tolerate routine, or duties and commitments that make you feel hemmed in, for long. You are always on the look out for new lands to conquer and your thirst for new experiences that will broaden your horizons and inspire you is a real driving force. You are an optimist with tremendous zest for life, and for adventure, and you always tell the truth, for you have no time for subterfuge or intrigue, as you believe in honesty and truth.

Your Mars in the Twelfth House

The twelfth house governs the unconscious mind, and is the place where we seek oneness with all life. Telepathy and psychic powers, intuition and tuning into hidden needs and feelings, both in ourselves and others, are found here. It is also the house of self sacrifice and of secrets of all kinds, and the place where we are linked to the beyond.

With forceful Mars in the most private, hidden area of your chart, you may appear to be much milder-natured and more willing to let others have their way, than is, in fact, the case. For behind the scenes, you are as determined as the next person, but you get your way by far more roundabout and subtle means. Perhaps you were brought up to feel that it was rude to ask for what you wanted, or perhaps you find it hard to be assertive, as you fear that you might fail, or be rejected. But get your way you do, often without others knowing that you have been working at it all along. With Mars here, you may also have an active dream life, and, at times, what you dream can be prophetic.

Your Mars in Conjunction with Your Neptune

This is one of the most powerful and magnetic aspects possible. You know exactly how to handle people - and to charm them - as you have not only force, but subtlety, and great flair and talent. You usually get what you want in life by trusting to your intuition and your innate ability to win others over. You could be a charismatic leader; in fact, the world is most probably at your feet and you never hesitate to take a risk as you believe in your own luck. For the most part, your own interests come first.

Your Mars in Trine with Your Jupiter

This aspect is probably the luckiest of all, giving great good fortune on both a financial and emotional level. Although you are somewhat of a gambler, your instincts are usually correct and your great optimism and enthusiasm help you to achieve your goals with ease. You are also an adventurer, ever on the look out for new lands to conquer. Romantic conquests also play a large part in your life and you may not like to feel tied down to just one person, as you need space and freedom if you are to live life to the full. In fact, everything about you is on the grand scale and you resent all limitations and restrictions.

Your Mars in Square with Your Saturn

In the course of your life, you may feel you are treated unfairly, at times, and so feel compelled to be overly assertive in order to hold your ground. You can also find it hard to get a project off the ground, or to see it through, as you are your own worst critic, undermining your own confidence with your own unfounded doubts. Once you learn to balance your emotions and your reason, you can bring about a breakthrough and achieve great things.

Your Mars in Sextile with Your Pluto

Your love of truth and your determination lead you to explore the basic truths of life. You have such large energy reserves that other people could get the impression that your strength is limitless. Being courageous and full of enthusiasm, you know how to tap into universal energy sources and make use of them to improve the lives of others.

Jupiter

Optimistic Jupiter's position in your chart shows where, and how, you can grow and expand your horizons. Jupiter rules your philosophy of life - how you make sense of existence. It is the Teacher and Guide, representing wisdom and your ability to grasp life's meaning. Its sign and house position, as well as the links it makes to other planets in your chart, describe your life path and career. It is also the bringer of good fortune, but, because it expands everything it touches, it can also bring inflation and exaggeration. It rules making journeys and discovery of every kind.

Your Jupiter in Leo

Magnanimous proud and generous, like the lion that is the King of Beasts, Leo has an almost regal outlook on existence and is built on the grand scale. There is nothing mean or petty about the fiery sign of Leo, which also has great warmth and charm and a natural gift for creativity and drama. Behind its self-confidence, a great deal of sensitivity is also hidden. Leo also likes the limelight and is always center-stage.

With Jupiter in fiery, self-assertive Leo, no one will fail to notice you when you walk into the room. You share your views on life with others easily and freely, and putting your opinions over and achieving worthwhile goals is all-important to you. As is gaining recognition. You also have great presence and self-confidence, which makes it easy for you to take center stage. But you have a big heart and do not hesitate to help others. And you can do a lot of good for the world, as your drive and courage serve as an example to less dynamic and flamboyant souls. You will be especially good at bringing out the best in children.

Your Jupiter in the Eighth House

The eighth house is concerned with endings and beginnings, with regeneration and transformation. Here, we discard what we have outgrown to make way for the new. Here, also we get down to the heart of things, stripping away the dross to reveal the truth or essence of the subject. This is the house of legacies, of joint financial issues, of sexuality and of everything that is shared with others.

With Jupiter here, you are generous and expansive in your close relationships with others. You are happy to share whatever you possess with those you love. You are always ready to go half way to meet somebody and to forgive them for their faults. However, you can grow restless in one to one relationships, as you are driven by a need for new experiences that expand your horizons. With Jupiter here, you should also be lucky with money, and you may well inherit considerable wealth.

Saturn

Saturn shows the way that you relate to responsibility and commitment. As the planet of karma, and of limitations, inhibitions and boundaries, Saturn's sign and house position, as well as the links it makes to other planets in your chart, show where, and why, you lack confidence or are afraid, and where your real life lessons must be learned. Saturn slows down and inhibits any planet that it touches. It shows your relationship to authority and towards your standing in the world. Its position also reveals where, and how, you can realize ambitions and give your life a firm foundation.

Your Saturn in Virgo

Virgo is analytical and precise. It sorts the corn from the chaff, discarding what is of no further use and synthesizing what remains into a new whole. Self-sufficiency and the ability to be whole in oneself are its real domain. Virgo is also concerned with work and service, and with compassion and the ability to think about, and care for others in a realistic way.

Saturn in Virgo gives you great determination - and the ability to work ceaselessly towards a goal. In fact, you can be a workaholic, as you are a perfectionist, taking everything on your own shoulders, instead of delegating tasks to others. You have an eagle eye for detail and like everything just so, and you can't relax until the job is finished. Letting go to enjoy life for a change is not easy for you, as you find it hard to just switch off.

Professionally, you might want to go into the field of health. Your conscientiousness and precision also make you suited for work in scientific research, or in a technical field. You are as thorough and reliable as they come.

Your Saturn in the Eighth House

The eighth house is concerned with endings and beginnings, with regeneration and transformation. Here, we discard what we have outgrown to make way for the new. Here, also we get down to the heart of things, stripping away the dross to reveal the truth or essence of the subject. This is the house of legacies, of joint financial issues, of sexuality and of everything that is shared with others.

As Saturn stands for boundaries and limitations, you like to feel that you are in control of your emotions and of your close bonds with others. You are just and fair - and loyal - but you can feel threatened if you have to take risks with your feelings. You will go half way to meet somebody, but no further. With Saturn here, you are also cautious and down to earth about money and you never take a risk. Which can cut both ways, as you can hold back and miss out on the real opportunities that come your way.

Your Saturn in Sextile with Your Uranus

When it comes to solving problems, you work hard and offer others the kind of support they can count on. You have both practicality and inspiration, a combination that enables you to reach even your most ambitious goals with ease. You also know how to put your ideas across to those who count and gain support, as others recognize your flair and your ability to make things happen. This aspect also brings good luck.

Your Saturn in Square with Your Neptune

You are no respecter of convention and you do not follow the herd blindly. You see no reason why you should play life by the rules. You have your own, personal morals and you dream of creating a better, freer world. You believe in your own vision, but you can lack self discipline, spending hours on end building castles in the air, or living in an ivory tower.>

Uranus

Uranus, the planet of sudden change, is the bringer of enlightenment and of sudden inspiration. Its house position in your chart, as well as the links it makes with other planets, show how Uranus affects you personally. Uranus reveals where you are most unique and which areas of life are likely to offer you new possibilities for growth and change. Its influence has been described as a wind that blows the sand from a hidden city, revealing your true self. It also shows your attitude towards authority, and towards the new. It also rules electronics and IT technology.

Because it moves so slowly round the sun, taking nearly a decade to travel through one zodiac sign, you will share its sign position with your whole generation.

Your Uranus in Scorpio

Scorpio, which rules, sex, birth, death and regeneration, is the most intense of all the signs. Ruled by all or nothing Pluto, and by fiery Mars, it is concerned with what is going on beneath the surface of existence, and with passion, truth and profound transformation. Scorpio has a powerful will and great determination. It is also loyal, but secretive, mysterious and magnetic.

Those born between 1975 and 1981 have Uranus in Scorpio, which gives a great desire, and need, to go beyond convention, and to discover hidden truths which could liberate mankind from superficiality and half truths.

The way that Uranus affects you personally depends more on its house position and its aspects to other planets in your chart.

Your Uranus in the Eleventh House

The eleventh house rules social life, as well as all joint endeavors. The sign, and any planets here, describe the way that we fit in with others and operate when we are in a group. This is the house of altruistic and humanitarian goals, of friendship and community, where we work hard to make our vision of the brotherhood of man, and of a better world, come true.

Uranus rules the eleventh house, and the Brotherhood of Man, with all that implies, is what you strive towards, as you feel a real kinship with mankind and you have no time for those who do not share your vision of a better world. You are not interested in social life for its own sake, but would rather join with others in a common cause and work for your ideals. Also, for you, friendship often means a great deal more than love. Freedom is a god to you and in your ideal world, possessiveness and jealousy would have no part. Between soul mates, there should be no need for doubt or fear, but the freedom to pursue your goals together or apart.

Neptune

Neptune is the planet of mysticism, and of dreams and ideals. It describes what kind of imagination you have, what inspires you, your particular kind of idealism, and your dreams. It is also concerned with all that is unseen; your psychic powers and your sensitivity to the atmosphere around you. While Saturn stands for boundaries, Neptune, the ruler of the ever-changing oceans, yearns for freedom from constrictions. It also rules false glamour, deception and illusion.

Because Neptune takes around fourteen years to travel through one zodiac sign, you share it sign position with your whole generation. Its house position and the links it makes to other planets in your chart show how it affects you on a more personal level.

Your Neptune in Sagittarius

For Sagittarius, the starry archer, life is an adventure and a journey to discover truth. Sagittarius is about the way we broaden our horizons and our thirst for knowledge and experience. It is concerned with learning, and with teaching, as well as our entire philosophy of life. Sagittarius sees the broader picture and is not concerned with details. It also governs foreign lands and cultures, as well as everything connected with religion and freedom of belief.

Neptune was in Sagittarius from 1970 to 1984. For those with Neptune here, spirituality and philosophy are all-important. They are adventurous and open-minded about other faiths and other peoples, making their own decisions instead of following the herd blindly, or accepting the status quo. The way that Neptune affects you on a personal level is shown by its house position and the links it makes to other planets in your chart.

Your Neptune in the Twelfth House

The twelfth house governs the unconscious mind, and is the place where we seek oneness with all life. Telepathy and psychic powers, intuition and tuning into hidden needs and feelings, both in ourselves and others, are found here. It is also the house of self sacrifice and of secrets of all kinds, and the place where we are linked to the beyond.

With Neptune in the twelfth house, which is its own domain, it is at its most powerful and at home. Your psychic powers are quite considerable, and, at times, you can seem to know things of which you have no personal experience, or glimpse truths that others have no access to. You are very sensitive to other people's feelings; too much so, at times, which can make it hard for you to stand your ground and make your own decisions.

Your Neptune in Sextile with Your Pluto

This aspect gives an ability to see beyond conventional values and to work out your own beliefs. It also gives a real ability to see beyond your personal interests and to work for the good of others. You may also have some psychic ability and a gift for art.

Your Neptune in Sextile with Your MC

You have the ability to intuitively grasp the mood of the people around you and you have a real sixth sense for coming trends. Professionally, you are probably involved with the arts, and, with your creative potential, success should be within your reach. Your relationships with everyone are characterized by warmth.

Pluto

Called after the Roman god of the underworld, Pluto governs the unconscious mind. It is the planet of regeneration, change and transformation, showing your unconscious motivations and your most intense - and hidden - feelings. Secretive Pluto gives depth and passion to any planet that it touches, making it hard to be objective and detached.

Because it is the furthest planet from the Sun, Pluto takes so long to travel through one zodiac sign that you share its influence by sign with your whole generation, as you do with Uranus and Neptune.

Your Pluto in Libra

Libra is the most sociable and amenable of all the signs, ever eager to fit in with others and seeking harmony and balance. Governed by Venus, this is the sign of one-to-one relationships, and, like one half of a pair of scales, Libra needs others to feel whole. Falling in love with love - and being flirtatious - can be problems, as can making choices and decisions, but Libra is also the sign of justice, and is fair, civilized - and sophisticated.

Because it is the furthest planet from the Sun, Pluto takes so long to travel through one zodiac sign that you share its influence by sign with your whole generation, as you do with Uranus and Neptune. Pluto should therefore be interpreted for individuals by its house position and its aspects to the other planets because it moves very slowly.

Pluto was in the sign of Libra, the sign of relationships, from 1972 until 1983. Those born between these dates seek true authenticity in their intimate connections with others. During this era, many aspects of traditional marriage and family life have been questioned, and abandoned, as Pluto tears down out-dated attitudes and structures to make way for the new.

Your Pluto in the Ninth House

The ninth house is concerned with long journeys, discovery and broadening our horizons. It rules not only long-distance travel and far-flung lands, but religion and philosophy, for many of our journeys are inward ones, being quests to find the meaning of existence. The sign occupying this house, and the planets found there, describe our quest and our vision of the universe's meaning. Here we can stand back, and, seeing life in the round, can synthesize experience and make sense of our lives.

With the truth planet, Pluto, in the ninth house of your chart, you are not satisfied by superficial answers. As Pluto governs the unconscious mind, with all its perils and its riches, your journey to the truth may be a very personal one, leading through the labyrinth of the soul. You are also courageous when it comes to facing truths that others would side step or turn away from. If something is a lie, you will abandon it without a second thought, even if you have to stand alone. But because Pluto rules not only endings, but rebirth and transformation, you emerge, reborn, and ready to say yes to life; and with a deeper understanding of its meaning.

Your Pluto in Conjunction with Your MC

You invest a great deal of energy in structuring your professional life. To reach the goals you have set for yourself, you can often show a sophistication that astounds everyone around you. Pluto is involved with everything that has depth. As Pluto deals with renewal, its position on your chart's midheaven may mean that your status will constantly be changing, as you have an inner sense of when to abandon outworn attitudes and projects and start anew.

ï»¿ The Nodes of the Moon - Your Life's Evolutionary Path

The Nodes of the Moon, which mark the points where the Moon's apparent orbit crosses the Sun's, help us to understand our lives as a dynamic journey of growth and change. Their position in our Natal Chart show us our natural strengths and weaknesses, helping us to understand where we are coming from, and where we should be going.

The South Node of the Moon - The Line of Least Resistance

We come into this world with inborn tendencies and talents. The sign occupied by the South Node of the Moon in your natal chart, and the house it occupies, reveal the ways of thinking and behaving that are second nature to you, and the area of life that you feel most at home in and find easiest to deal with.

Whether or not these are gifts developed in a previous life, or are just a part of our genetic inheritance, we tend to fall back on what is most familiar to us, and can fail to develop the qualities of the sign and house position of the South Node's opposite, the North Node of the Moon.

The North Node of the Moon - The Future, Growth and Change

The North Node of the Moon always occupies the opposite zodiac sign, and house, to the South Node. It shows us the qualities we need to develop in order to evolve and to become more whole and balanced, as well as the area of life that we need to learn to deal with better.

North Node in Pisces, South Node in Virgo

With the South Node of the Moon in Pisces, you have an instinctive understanding that all life is one, and a natural tendency to focus on the bigger picture. You also find it easy to get lost in dreams and dealing with the practicalities of daily life does not come high on your agenda. But with the North Node of the Moon in down to earth and focused Virgo, your life's challenge is to learn to give a realistic, solid basis to your dreams - to 'give to airy nothing a local habitation and a name' - and to live life in the here and now.

South Node in the Third House

The third house is concerned with learning, education and communication of all kinds. In the third house, we gather facts, analyze experience and share our ideas with others. How we gather information, establish contacts and relate to neighbors, siblings and schoolfriends, is shown by the sign occupying the third house, and by any planets that are found here, which also emphasize the importance of this area of our lives. It is the house of the rational, 'concrete' mind.

Your Line of Least Resistance: you feel at ease with all forms of communication, interaction, siblings, neighbours, but can fail to see the bigger picture.

North Node in the Ninth House

The ninth house is concerned with long journeys, discovery and broadening our horizons. It rules not only long-distance travel and far-flung lands, but religion and philosophy, for many of our journeys are inward ones, being quests to find the meaning of existence. The sign occupying this house, and the planets found there, describe our quest and our vision of the universe's meaning. Here we can stand back, and, seeing life in the round, can synthesize experience and make sense of our lives.

Your Life Path Challenge: you need to develop your own philosophy of life and spirituality, to quest for truth, and be open to adventure and long-distance travel.

Created by:

Click here to visit InteractiveStars.com

Copyright 2013-2016 by Catherine Tennant. All rights reserved.